Update on the Certification Exam Practice Courses and Certification Exams Being Provided at No Cost to You by ICC, NYS-DCEA and NYSERDA

The International Code Council (ICC), the New York Department of Code Enforcement & Administration (DCEA) and the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA) are offering a unique opportunity for those living and/or working in New York State to participate in complimentary in-person and online certification training. NYSEDA will provide full financial support on a first-come, first-serve basis the following ICC energy professional certifications:

- Commercial Energy Inspector Certification
- Commercial Energy Plans Examiner Certification
- Green Building Residential Examiner Certification
- Residential Energy Inspector Certification

Any code enforcement official who attains any of these ICC certifications shall be deemed to have satisfied their annual 24-hours of in-service training requirement for the 2012 calendar year! For details, click here.

The process includes a morning session with a general overview of the ECCCNY 2010 - highlighting NYS' energy performance goals and a general tutorial on taking an open-book exam. The morning class will only be open to those that take the exam(s) that afternoon and is worth 2 CEUs toward your 2011 requirements. All participants should bring their ECCCNY2010 Code Book with them.

All Online Practice Courses and all Certification Exams MUST be completed by December 31, 2011. After that time, normal fees would apply.

The following FREE online ECCCNY-2010 Certification Exam Practice Courses listed below can be taken in preparation for an exam (click here to get started), however they are not mandatory. The exam practice courses simply familiarize the examinee with the test format for those who have limited experience. Taking the practice course does not guarantee you will pass a certification exam.

- Commercial Energy Plans Examiner Certification CEP Course
- Green Building Residential Examiner Certification CEP Course
- Residential Energy Inspector Certification CEP Course
